TO ALL CLIENTS OF EVOLUTION TATTOO STUDIOS

MY TATTOO UNDER THE SKIN
~ What my tattoo means to me.

We have developed a new website and we want to include a selection of short stories in a feature series called My Tattoo. The story behind your own tattoo would be written by you, and would tell why you chose the tattoo or tattoos that you have. Your story would be about what your tattoo means to you - and perhaps what it means to others, particularly if you have dedicated your work to someone special.

On our website your own story would be set alongside a photograph of the tattoo work we have done for you; and, optionally, a picture of you with your name. But your story can be anonymous too - with only the picture of your tattoo and the story that lead to it.

If our project is successful, then we aim to produce a quality printed book of this collection of stories. The book would be self-published by Evolution Tattoo. We believe such a book would be of interest to all with a tattoo - and to those without one! And perhaps with your own story the book would make a great present for you to give!

We hope you will help us - and take part by offering your own story about your own tattoo in your own words; we will certainly value your contribution and hope you will feel valued too for taking part in this interesting project.

And so, please discuss this with your artist at Evolution Tattoo and arrange for a photograph for your story. When you are ready, let us have your short story entitled My Tattoo on no more than one side of A4 paper. We will of course produce a draft of your story for you to check and approve, to ensure you are completely happy with it before we would publish it on our website or subsequently in any book.

Thank you in advance for your interest and support in this new project.

It will be great to read the tale of your tattoo, and see what you are willing to tell!
